talk and music on Saturday night as the dancing and socializing continued far into the night. The setting was most unique as the decoration committee had provided some very imaginative backgrounds for the ball's theme. Signs of the Zodiac and panorama of the heavens decorated the walls. Flashing tinted lights added color to the rooms. This decor was a fitting background for the costumes of the dancers. The costumes were marvelous. The variety and detail were testimony to the imagination and ingenuity of all. Clowns, Merlins, Zodiac symbols, a massive lion, a Mississippi gambler, medieval page, green giant, Romans, Indian beggar, turtles, pickles, silver Mercury, you name it, and there it was. Robin Hood danced with Maid Marion, the dirty old man with the innocent pursed maiden, the green giant danced with the pod full of peas. It was a fascinating treat to study the different costumes. All were imaginative. The who best portrayed the Zodiac theme. Jim and Nina Mahoney were chosen. She represented Scorpio and he was Gemini with patches on the tunic representing the character traits of that sign. Most original couple was won by the Ray Cooks who were dressed as the Jolly Green Giant and a pea pod full of peas. The "Dirty Old Man" and the object of his affections, portrayed by Veronica and Dr. Clayton King, were chosen as the best of a host of very funny characters. Judges were Rev. Donald Finley, Dr. David Goodenough, Mrs. Louis Corey, Jr. and Donald Jason. Announcing of the grand march was by Donald Fleming.

Delicious homemade refreshments were served during intermission by a large committee of women headed by Mrs. Murray DeCoffe. Wall murals were by Mr. Philip Kelsey. Galaxy of Stars and Booth Decor and lighting was under the direction of Mrs. David H. McCormack. Amateur astrologers strolled the dance area to tell horoscopes of those present. A large ticket committee was headed by Mrs. Clifford I. Tripp, Jr. General chairman of the affair was Robert H. Humphrey.

The Raymond Cooks - winners of the most original category. He represents the "Jolly Green Giant" and she is a pod of peas.

Mattapoisett Woman's Club

Plans for the 1969-1970 year of fellowship and community service were announced and discussed at the opening board meeting of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club held September 4th at the home of the president, Mrs. Albert Furnans.

Mrs. Harlan C. Broadwater, program chairman, announced the list of programs for the year as follows:

September meeting will start the season off with a pot luck luncheon, followed by a talk by Miss Phyllis Brightman from the County Extension Service, who will speak on "Stretching the Food Dollar!"

October's speaker will be Mrs. Louise Holbrook whose topic is "First Ladies of the U.S.A.", and she will present amusing anecdotes and colored slides showing the ladies' gowns.

November will be guest night with Mr. Ben Harrison, a man who was for years with the U. S. Army Engineers Corps, working at the Cape Cod Canal.

December is still "in the works" - there are several plans being worked out, with one possibility a Christmas party.

January will feature a legislative program with Mr. J. Richard Early, editor of the New Bedford Standard Times, as the guest speaker.

the meetings of any of the other interest groups. Those planning to join the Beginning Bridge Group should contact Mrs. Roger Morris by October 3rd with the first lesson planned for October 7th. Members of the Advanced Bridge Group who would like to continue playing together regularly should contact Mrs. Milton Briggs; bowlers for the Monday afternoon league should sign up with Mrs. Anthony Sylvia immediately; leaders of other groups will announce dates for their first meetings shortly.

Members should watch for their bulletins and be sure to sign up for any and all of the smaller groups in which they may be interested, and then prepare to really enjoy the new club year.

In February, Mrs. J. Newton Barrows will show slides on antique dolls and will bring a few of the actual dolls from her unique collection.

March will bring back a big favorite of 2 years ago, "Show and Tell Day", and April will be the annual meeting.

A main topic of discussion was the yearly commitment of the club to work with its scholarship committee in earning the money donated each year to students at Old Rochester Regional. Chairman of the Scholarship committee, Mrs. Archibald Lammey, will hold a meeting shortly of her committee

Tabor's 93rd Year

TABOR OPENS WITH 427 STUDENTS ENROLLED

Tabor Academy in Marion began its 93rd year on September 10th as 427 boys enroll. A faculty of forty-five men and three women are this year to make up the teaching staff of the waterfront boys school which is under the headmastership of James W. Wickenden. This is three more staff members than were at the school last year.

Some two hundred of the boys enrolled are from the state of Massachusetts. Another hundred come from Rhode Island, Connecticut and New York. The balance is spread among twenty-seven states and territories as well as fifteen foreign countries. Three of the latter, from England, Germany, and Thailand, are at Tabor on formal exchange or national sponsorship programs. Among the student body are twenty-eight sons of Tabor alumni and forty-three boys who have had brothers precede them at the school. There are also twelve families from which two brothers are currently at Tabor.

Tabor Academy offers a full range of college preparatory courses plus work in naval science in keeping with its standing as a Naval Honor School. It is adding courses this year in Russian History, Classical History and Economics. The oceanographic work which the school pioneered and developed in cooperation with Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute is this year given academic standing for credit for the first time. It previously was an optional extra-curricular activity under the guidance of the Science Department.

There are seven Mattapoisett boys enrolled at Tabor this year. They are: Daniel C. Briggs, Briar Patch Lane; Karl P. Lonsdale, Pine Island Road; Carl H. Mogilni, Atkinson Way; David W. Peterson, 4 Winnatuxett Road; Frederick W. Reynolds, III, 21 LeBaron Way; Bert M. St. Germain, III, 16 LeBaron Way; and Dwight E. Smith, 67 North Street.

A THANK YOU

To our neighbors and friends for their kind sympathy, to our efficient Police Department whom I had to call while Mr. Haskell was ill at home for the use of the ambulance to Tobey Hospital and the nursing home - we wish to express our thanks.

Mrs. Doris Haskell and family.

YWCA

During Open House Week and Learn to Swim Week, September 22-27, the public is cordially invited to visit and view the building, and become better acquainted with the program of the YWCA. There is a program at the YWCA for women of all ages, from young girls to mature women. Particular attention is directed toward teenage girls and women in their early 20s.

Girls and women are invited to come to the Y and ask about clubs and classes, or call on the telephone and receive full information. Several choices are available in the health education department, including yoga, and sauna. There are clubs with various activities, hobby and interest groups, classes and courses, volunteer service opportunities, discussions, trips, coed activities, special activities for teens, business and industrial workers, young wives and mothers, and older women.

Invitations to the Leader Orientation open to all area club officers and program chairmen, scheduled for September 22nd, will be mailed soon.

There is no fee nor YWCA membership requirement for swimming lessons during the annual "Learn to Swim Week". This is for both children and adults. One-half hour classes will be given daily at 4 and 4:30 P.M. Register at the main desk or call on the telephone. Classes will be filled on a first come, first served basis.

The ten week Handicapped Program sponsored by Easter Seals given at the YWCA, offering free instruction in swimming to boys and girls 6-17 years of age, starts October 4th at 4 P.M. Classes are for one hour. The YWCA, 999-6201, or Easter Seals, 7-1271, should be contacted for full information.

Teenage and adult swimmers interested in volunteering as assistants in the program should call Mrs. Beatrice Whalen, pool director, YWCA.
